

Take the heat out of Facilities Management

With Powerful Portable Air Conditioning Hire from Andrews

Andrews Air Conditioning Hire...

the safest pair of hands in the F.M support business Rising heat causes big problems for facilities managers, M&E and HVAC contractors - the heat experienced in recent summers caused havoc in many facilities that didn't have access to extra cooling power. While the future is uncertain, summer temperatures look set to rise.

If breakdowns occur or systems are shutdown for maintenance and engineering work, FM, HVAC contractors and M&E providers need an assurance of reliable cooling power to ensure uninterrupted services for spaces large or small.

We're the proven hire solution specialists...

Building FM – when a TV station relocated to a new site, the chillers used canal water that blocked the filters and the return water temperature was too high. The Facilities Management provider asked us to supply temporary hire chillers: three 500kW units were positioned outside and linked to a main connection point. Work was completed to the client's complete satisfaction, and operated faultlessly while the filtration system was overhauled.

Defence sector refit - we provided the Air Conditioning hire solution when a defence sector client needed reliable cooling during the 16-week refit of a mission-critical data centre requiring 500kW of cooling. We split the centre into 4 zones with independent cooling circuits, each with 100% standby: three 100kW chillers and a 200kW unit, providing chilled water to 50kW air handlers, plus audible alarms and seamless connection with the Building Management System. The solution worked brilliantly, leading to further hire contracts.
